

Amal Ben Ghanem
VMD 150

It's me!

My Name is Amal Ben Ghanem. I'm a journalism student, and before that I was a radio journalist for 7 years before I had to move to the U.S. Visual Media Design 105 is one of the required classes that I have to accomplish in order to major in journalism at City college. I really enjoyed what we have studied so far, even though I'm not sure the skills I have learned will be useful in my future career except for Adobe InDesign. For this project of Adobe InDesign I chose to make a vintage postcard because I like the old style cards.

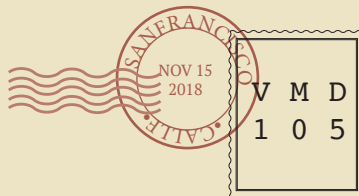

©City College of San Francisco

Student : Amel Ben Ghanem

Cours: Visual Media Design

It took me a lot of time to find a creative idea to this project; but I ended up using the skills that I have learned in class to create something very simple using the skills that I learned in class.

Final Project

Adobe Photoshop

©City College of San Francisco

Adobe Illustrator is until now the favorite software I have enjoyed learning in this class.

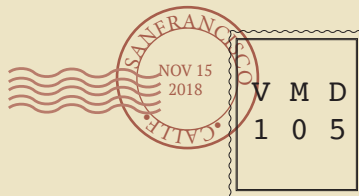

Drawing has always been my favorite hobby since I was a child and Adobe Illustrator is been a discovery that helped me to transfer my drawing creations to digital designs.

Final Project

Adobe Illustrator

©City College of San Francisco

The idea of this project was a kind witch who goes around to distribute some treats for children in Halloween.

In this project I didn't only use Adobe Animate but I got to use adobe illustrator again to create the main character for this project.

Final Project

Adobe Animate

©City College of San Francisco